PRESS RELEASE

IAPR: The digital platform for granting a UPT reduction for insured residences is now open

Available now is the digital platform for the submission of applications regarding the granting of a UPT reduction for insured residences, based on the data sent to IAPR by the insurance companies for residences, the insurance capital and the types of insured risks (earthquake, fire, flood).

Applications (initial or modifying) are submitted by 22/02/2024, through the digital portal myAADE (myaade.gov.gr), by going to: Applications > Popular Applications > myPROPERTY > UPT Reduction for insured residences.

Please note that, when creating the application, policyholders can identify the insurance policies that have been declared in their TIN and:

- associate them with their insured residences (own insurance)
- declare the TIN(s) of the co-owner(s), when there is more than one co-owner for the insured residence (own insurance and on behalf of third parties)
- declare the TIN(s) of third parties who have a right to the insured residence, when they themselves do not have a right to it (insurance on behalf of third parties).

Taxpayers, who will be included in the application as co-owners or third parties, will be informed via an email, which will also be posted in their personal inbox accessed by going to: myAADE > Register & Contact > My messages. In order to be granted the UPT reduction, if the conditions are met, taxpayers must submit an application themselves, in order to associate the insurance policy with their insured residence.

Citizens can be informed further, through the relevant list of Frequently Asked Questions as well as the User Guide for the new platform, posted on the IAPR website, as well as through the IAPR's Taxpayer Service Centre: +30 213 162 1000, on working days and hours 07:30 - 17:00.
