Joint Press Release of the Ministries of National Economy and Finance, Digital Governance, Infrastructure and Transport and Citizen Protection and the Independent Authority for Public Revenue (IAPR)

New round of notices in the context of vehicle cross-checks – The first compliance data is already being recorded

The process of cross-checks continues to identify cases of non-compliance with the insurance obligation and the payment of 2025 registration fees, with the sending of a third round of 80,429 notices to vehicle owners who have not fulfilled their obligations.

More specifically:

- 66,702 notices concern insurance non-compliance, of which 61,317 are addressed to natural persons and 5,385 to legal persons
- 13,727 notices concern non-payment of registration fees, of which 12,798 are addressed to natural persons and 929 to legal persons.

The above dispatches are based on cross-checks with a reference date of 19/11/2025 and are added to the data of the two previous notice rounds, during which 209,514 registration fee notices and 196,559 insurance notices were sent.

As in previous missions, the aim is to inform vehicle owners about the omissions that have been identified, in order to take the necessary actions to improve road safety.

The process of continuous cross-checks is already having significant results, as compliance was found in 31,777 vehicles with regard to registration fees and in 62,264 vehicles with regard to insurance.

Regarding notices, as in previous cases, citizens and representatives of legal persons are informed via SMS, email or mail, depending on the available contact details kept in the State registers. Citizens who have registered their contact details in the National Contact Registry (emep.gov.gr) receive SMS and email from the General Secretariat for Information Systems and Digital Governance, and the rest are informed via email by the IAPR. In cases where contact through the above methods is not possible, notices are sent via mail.

Citizens, in order to view the notices concerning their vehicles, can visit the oximata.gov.gr application, using their personal TaxisNet codes. The application provides detailed information on the non-compliance status of each vehicle and the possibility of immediate compliance.

Notices with confirmed fines will begin to be sent in the coming days.

The cross-checks are implemented by the General Secretariat for Information Systems and Digital Governance of the Ministry of Digital Governance, in collaboration with the Ministries of National Economy and Finance, Infrastructure and Transport and Citizen Protection and the IAPR, under the coordination of the Prime Minister's Office, using data from the Auxiliary Motor Accident Liability Insurance Fund and the Alternative Vehicle Management of Greece (EDOE).
